

GreenSpace Brands Announces 13,400 New Points of Distribution With Major Food and Pharmacy Chains Across Canada and the United States

TORONTO, ONTARIO, October 25, 2018 - GreenSpace Brands Inc. ("GreenSpace" or "the Company") (TSXV: JTR) today reported the continued expansion of its portfolio of products into an additional 13,400 points of distribution throughout both Canada and the US.

Key Highlights of the incremental distribution wins include:

- A total of 13,400 new facings for 48 products across six brands.
- Go Veggie has seen a turnaround following the rationalizing of that brand and has started to capitalize on the momentum surrounding plant-based eating, with 5,000 new points of distribution across 25 products and 19 grocery retailers in the US in the last 3 months.
- Strengthening Private Label partnerships, primarily in the plant based cheese business, have developed into additional distribution wins in 1,800 new outlets across the US
- Love Child Organics' momentum continues with 4,000 new points of distribution coming on-line with the launch of the new Prune and Superblend pouches.
- Central Roast added distribution from coast to coast in Canada within both the grocery and convenience channels including listings with Save-On-Foods in September.
- Meatbar gained momentum with national distribution at market leading Circle K, opening up 1,950 distribution points nationally.
- Kiju has experienced strong national distribution gains with the expansion at Walmart resulting in 1,300 new points of distribution along with new innovation, under Kiju Fit, being widely accepted across the mass and independent channels
- Kiju has solidified a partnership with Freshii, establishing a key Quick Service Restaurant foothold.
- Cedar has seen distribution wins across large format grocery retailers with the expansion of their highly successful Kombucha line into an additional 200 points of distribution nationally.

Distribution wins have been confirmed and have either rolled out or are in the process of rolling out over the coming months.

"We continue to see strong momentum in our core brands with new distribution wins in both Canada and the US for all of our largest brands. Go Veggie in particular is a good news story as that brand has started growing again after rationalizing some of the sku's when we took it over " says Matthew von Teichman, CEO of GreenSpace Brands. "Now that Go Veggie has started growing again, and with the imminent contribution of our other plant based dairy brand Riot Eats, we're optimistic that our US strategy is on the cusp of providing some significant momentum to our overall business. Combine that with the performance of Love Child, Kiju, Central Roast, Cedar and now Meatbar, we're optimistic about our quest to get to a run rate of $100 million of gross sales in the foreseeable future.
